松野屋は探し歩いています

Matsunoya is always looking for the latest in retro...

松野屋は 1945 年創業、現在は自然素材を中心とした生活道具をあつかう荒物問屋。荒物という言葉自体、近ごろあまり耳にしなくなったが、ほうき、ちりとり、ざるなど、ちょっと前まではどこにでもあった簡単なつくりの日用品のこと。松野屋では、国内やアジアの町に直接足をはこび、町工場や閑散期の農家などで作られる日用品などを仕入れると同時に、生産者とともに今の時代のニーズにあったオリジナル商品を開発してきた。荒物は民藝と同じように人の手が生み出す日用品のことだが、それは民藝のいうところの「民衆的手工藝品」ではなく、より普通の人びとの日常の暮らしに根差した「民衆的手工業」から生まれる日用の道具たちだ。人として、まっとうな暮らしを営むなかで、長い年月をかけて培われてきた手工業製品には、買いやすい値段で、良い仕事をするものが多い。日常に使いやすく、今の暮らしにちょうど良い、「ベストでもベターでもない、ナイスなものづくり」から生まれる暮らしの道具たちとの出会いが、日々の生活を豊かに彩ってくれることを願っている。

Matsunoya, founded in 1945, is an aramono wholesaler dealing in daily tools made of natural materials. Aramono – miscellaneous daily items – is itself rarely heard these days. It includes brooms, dustpans, and sieves – the simple daily tools found in most homes just a few decades ago. Matsunoya staff visit local plants throughout Japan and Asia to purchase these items from small factories and off-season at farms. Working together with producers, we also develop original items meeting the needs of the age. Aramono and other daily goods include industrial handicrafts – not current “folk art” handicrafts. The original daily industrial handicrafts grew out of years of ordinary people making an honest living from practical goods at reasonable prices. We encourage our users to enjoy life more by using honest quality items for a more humanistic and natural lifestyle.

Knitting from Tohoku

The origins of “Knitting from Tohoku” go back to the days just after the 2011 Great East Japan Earthquake. At a time when many had nearly lost the will to live, a volunteer-led knitting workshop brought people together. What began as a small gathering gradually became a source of hope for each of them, and over time they grew into professional knitters.

When dry, it is hard and stiff to the touch, but when wetted and wrung out, it softens and becomes gentle and pleasant to the touch. It can be used for washing dishes and for body use. Massaging the whole body with body soap on it improves blood circulation and firms up the skin. It is also recommended for elbows and knees where keratin is a concern.

Khadi cotton cloth

WomenWeave is an organization to support Indian women's independence by establishing "hand-weave" as job. The hand-weave is one of traditional hand work for women in India. Khadi cotton was created during the colonial Period by Britain. It is said that Gandhi spread the handwoven cotton cloth for Indian's independence against machine weaving by industrial revolution. Khadi cotton keeps containing air. The more it is used, the more smooth it becomes. There are two different sizes, so they can be used for each purpose.

The small size can be used around the kitchen as a cloth, or as a handkerchief or luncheon mat. The large size is recommended as a towel. The softness of the towel allows it to gently conform to the skin when washing the body. It can be carried compactly and dries quickly, so it can be used as a substitute for a travel towel. It can be laid on a shelf, cover a basket, or serve as an interior decoration.

・ It tends to split lengthwise when dried. Wet the product lightly before use.
・ It absorbs moisture and oil.

Paper-thin sheen of wood used as wood paper food wrap is made of conifer. It was started to be used as a paper to write down Buddhist sutra and has changed the way to use it over time, such as wrapping portable food or preserving fish and meat. Wood paper food wrap can absorb moderate amount of moisture just like rice chest, so it can keep food like onigiri (rice ball) in a good condition. It can be also used on the bottom of lunch box to absorb liquid. This product shows excellent permeability, antibacterial effect and prevent food spoilage. Fragrant coniferous tree from Hokkaido is used as its material.

It is very useful for steamed dishes such as xiaolongbao, steamed meat buns, shaomai, and steamed vegetables. Steaming vegetables in a Cedar steamer does not make them watery, and they taste good even when cold. Frozen small basket pastries can also be heated in the Cedar steamer, making them firmer than in a microwave oven. It is also convenient to use one level for cooking small quantities. If you put the whole Cedar steamer on the dining table, the atmosphere will be more lively and the dining table will be more lively. It fits perfectly in the Wooden lid small pot (20-1606), so we recommend using them as a set!

The grooves on the tip make it easy to grab things. The ice tongs, as the name suggests, are easy to grip ice, and are useful not only for situations where ice is used, such as at the drinking table, but also for serving salads and other dishes. The mini tongs are just the right size for pickles and seasonings. The simple design looks great on the dining table.

Japanese glass bottle

Japanese glass bottle has been produced as dental glass bin in Tokyo since about 100 years ago. Each piece is made by pouring glass into mold by skilled craftsmen. Since a spout of the bin is carefully polished by industrial diamond, it can be sealed by a lid very well and does not leak any liquid.

It is also recommended to use it to hold ink or gel nail polish.

Laos baskets are woven in a small village about a three-hour drive north of Vientiane, the capital of Laos. Here and there in the village, you can see people chatting while making bamboo ladders, or weaving baskets in the shade of trees while swinging in hammocks. The green bamboo, which is similar to madake in Japan, is woven by slicing the bark as thin as possible with a knife and soaking it in water. The way the bamboo is formed from a flat surface into a three-dimensional shape is similar to the way that Iwate's Sasazutake (bamboo shoots) are used to make Bamboo clothes storage box baskets. The very light and supple woven baskets give a nostalgic impression and fit easily into Japanese life.
